Fundamentals

There's no way around it: the way you do this course will help you succeed through personal and financial literacy. That fundamental financial literacy.

Educational Planning

If you're thinking about college, you probably have a dream about what you'll accomplish there. Here, you need to consider that dream into a college experience, career, and future. This lesson will help you get there—there's a financial, academic, and program goal perspective.

Education, Degrees, and Careers

Students who work, intern, or volunteer while attending school are more successful with their management and have higher graduation rates. That's why getting job experience, finding your interest, and networking are now essential parts of college. This resource will help you figure out how to choose the right job or experience for you.

Employment

Looking for a paycheck for your dream career can be a full-time job by itself—but achieving when it's possible. This lesson will help you see the process, answer your questions, and help you become the person you want to be: confident, capable, and ready to take on the world.
